

MACLEOD WARMLY WELCOMES DELEGATES OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONVENTION

ALBERTA LEGISLATORS DE-CLARE FREIGHTS MUST BE LOWERED TO THE WEST

Edmonton, March 7.—Out of a host of resolutions standing on the order paper, the legislature Friday, picked on one as a sequel to the prolonged debate which ended Thursday night, which drew the warring elements together in one harmonious whole.

This motion was one proposed by Hon. V. W. Smith, that the provincial government should continue to press for an equalization of freight rates in Canada, where water competition does not enter into the question, and particularly those affecting definite parts of Alberta, this including an effort to secure more uniform rates on primary products for shipments for export as well as domestic consumption to and from the Pacific coast. The resolution was passed at the perfect chorus of "ayes" after it had been read and briefly presented by Mr. Smith, and endorsed by Messrs. Mitchell, Tobin and Henry from the Liberal benches.

In presenting the resolution, Mr. Smith reviewed western action which led to the establishment of the Crow's Nest agreement rate, its subsequent suspension by the railway board, and its ratification recently by the privy council Ottawa. In view of the preference rates established in certain parts of the west, and of the safeguard which water transportation affords rates in the east, he thought that the only remedy for the situation would be a statutory maximum rate structure established by the Dominion parliament. He pointed out that a person shipping livestock to the coast pays 20 per cent. more than if the shipment were to Winnipeg. In regard to the commodity shipments between Alberta and British Columbia, the rates were equally unreasonable.

Liberal Support

Hon. C. R. Mitchell, strongly supported the motion stating it would be a hardship for Alberta producers if not in the future enabled to ship more cheaply to points in B.C.

S. G. Tobin, Leduc, gave the resolution his blessing, emphasizing the part Premier Oliver of B.C. had taken in the fight for more equal freight rates of the government for not taking the present action before the privy council was appealed to, pointing out that some compromise might have been arrived at so that the hard and fast rate schedule brought back by the Crow's Nest agreement might have been adjusted so as to operate with less discrimination on the parts of the west outside its zone. However, he was glad to see the step taken at this time by the government.

BROOM BALL CONCERT WAS BIG SUCCESS

The entertainment given at the Empress Theatre on Monday evening last for the benefit of the proposed Covered Rink Fund, by the ladies of the Broom Ball Club, proved a huge success. The S.R.O. sign was hung out away before the show commenced. The first half of the program was the showing of the Macleod Jubilee film of 1000 feet, which is one of the best advertising mediums for Macleod that has been put out. The second half of the entertainment was a Tableau entitled "Sweethearts of the Songs," which was beautifully staged by members of the Broom Ball Club and other young ladies assisted by J. T. Millard. During the interval between these two acts Miss Florence Baker gave a splendid exhibition of dancing which was heartily enjoyed, as also was the violin solo played by Mrs. Jones. Both these turns were exceptionally good and thoroughly deserved the enthusiastic reception they received. Mrs. F. Morris' solo was beautifully rendered, and the recitation by Mrs. Murdoch was listened to with rapt attention, while Mae Fawcett's comic recitation made a decided hit. Solos by Mrs. Cutler and Mrs. Brewster were beautifully rendered.

The Broom Ball Club will announce the amount realized for the Rink Fund in the next issue of The Times.

ARDENVILLE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis were the week-end guests of Mrs. E. A. Barr.

The Purcell brothers, of Carmangay, are making Mr. Coffell's ranch their headquarters during their coyote hunting trip at Ardenville. Last week their hounds had a most exciting encounter with five coyotes, and after a great deal of chewing and scratching the dogs acknowledged defeat and limped away home. The hunters however are having a successful hunt.

Word has been received from Arthur Killo that he has arrived in Seattle and will leave shortly for Alaska.

J. Driver has received two car loads of cattle and horses for his ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall, Miss Wall and Miss Maloney were guests at the home of Mrs. Barr on Sunday.

On Monday one of the worst blizzards of the winter kept people beside their fires. It is reported that stock has not suffered as the storm did not last overnight.

On Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson was the scene of a surprise party for their eldest son, Axel, who was twenty-one. The evening was spent in games and dancing. At lunch time everyone joined in an enjoyable sing-song of old fashioned melodies. After this the surprised young man was presented with a gold mounted fountain pen.

LIBERAL MOVE TO CUT INDEMNITIES IS SNOWED UNDER BY THE FARMERS

Edmonton, March 6.—By an overwhelming majority the legislature last night as a termination of the twelve-day debate on the administrator's speech, tied rocks to the feet of the motion to reduce indemnities and ministerial salaries and heaved it overboard.

The amendment in question was one made by Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Liberal, to the resolution of acceptance of the speech from the throne moved by Messrs. Stringam and Matheson at the opening of the session. The Liberal amendment in preamble called attention to the need of a general reduction in public expenditure in the province and proposed definitely that a "substantial" reduction be made in members' indemnities and the salaries of cabinet ministers, this to be applicable for the present session.

Snowed Under

Only the Liberals and T. C. Milnes, Clareholm, voted for the amendment. Government members voted solidly against the proposal, being supported by the Labor members, Messrs. White, Christophers and Johnston, the Independent members, Messrs. Pearson and Davidson, and Dr. J. S. Stewart, Conservative, Lethbridge.

The register was 41 votes against the amendment, and 10 for, with two members paired and a number absent.

MACLEOD POSSESSES UP-TO-DATE PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO

H. V. Clarke, proprietor of the Macleod Photographic studio, has shown his optimism for the advancement and prosperity of Macleod and district, by expending a large amount of time and money in completely remodeling and installing a new and up-to-date photographic plant. The studio is now on the first floor and is fitted with all the latest improvements in fixtures, and the camera is one of the finest obtainable. In the basement a large picture framing parlor has been fixed up with all the latest appliances for this branch of the business. Off from the framing room is the printing and dark rooms each one of which is fitted out in the most efficient and modern manner. The Macleod Studio is now easily one of the best in the province, and with the continued and assured service that has always been given by Mr. Clarke, Macleod can fairly pride itself on having as good photographic service as is obtainable in the West.

The annual convention of the Women's Institute, District Number Four, was commenced Wednesday at Macleod. The convention was the most largely attended of any Women's Institute meeting since the first convention held in Clareholm in 1917.

Proceedings opened at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. Lynch-Staunton, of Pincher Creek, district director, presiding. Over one hundred ladies from different parts of southern Alberta had registered before the afternoon session adjourned. Mrs. J. N. Baubier, of Champion, Provincial President of the Alberta Women's Institute, recited the Club Women's Creed, after which Mayor J. W. McDonald of Macleod gave an address of welcome to the delegates, assuring them of a hearty reception from Macleod on account of the war, and Russell, president of the Macleod Women's Institute, endorsed the welcome remarks of the Mayor, as well as did Miss Muir president of the Macleod Local Council of Women. Mrs. Lynch-Staunton thanked Macleod for the enthusiastic reception that was tendered the women of the war, and that every courtesy possible had been offered by Macleod and its residents to the delegates attending the meeting.

Mrs. J. H. Baubier, on behalf of Mrs. J. H. Rogers, Secretary of the A.W.I., who was unavoidably absent, gave a resume of the work accomplished by the Women's Institute in District No. 4 since its inception in 1917. She explained the first convention was held at Clareholm in 1917, when on account of the war, and epidemics of sickness no further convention was held until the latter meeting of 1921. Lethbridge was the next annual meeting in 1922. Medicine Hat in 1923, and Lethbridge again in 1924. The Women's Institute, according to Mrs. Baubier's address, had accomplished a great deal in the towns and districts both in regard to the welfare of women and children and all worthy charitable organizations. They had grown strong in membership and unity, solidly and gradually, and would continue in those paths of progress in the future years.

Mrs. Alcock, convenor of the Little Bow constituency, Mrs. Cameron of the Rocky Mountain constituency, Mrs. Bellamy of the Medicine Hat constituency and Mrs. Anderson of the Annual reports of their districts, each of which was received with hearty applause and unanimously accepted by the convention.

Mrs. O. C. Edwards, convenor of the Committee on Laws for the National Council of Women, then addressed the meeting and stated her subject the Divorce bill now in the hands of the Senate for its final passing. The speaker, who received a great ovation from the assembly, handled her subject in masterly style, proving to her interested listeners that the new bill, when passed, would be a great benefit to womankind throughout Canada. Mrs. Edwards also took up the matter of Community Rights at the request of one of the delegates. During her address the speaker referred very strongly to the economic independence of the married woman, showing how Sweden had adopted the only fair principle, in regard to the married woman, making it essential that a wife receive a worthy remuneration for her services in the home. "Woman was made for man" vehemently stated Mrs. Edwards, and the laws of equality for men and women was one of the main issues that should be striven for. The meeting adjourned at the conclusion of the last speaker's address and reassembled again at 7:30 p.m. for their evening session. The resolution committee

EMPRESS THEATRE
CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

WINNIEP KIDDIES, CANADA'S STELLAR AGGREGATION OF CHILD ACTORS, TO PLAY AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE SATURDAY MARCH 21st MATINEE AND EVENING

The greatest aggregations of "kiddie" artists ever assembled is to play at the Empress Theatre here. Haired by press and public as the most wonderful company of juveniles ever assembled, they truly live up to their reputation.

The engagement is for one day and afternoon matinee and will be the event of the season theatrically speaking. There are fifteen young artists every one of them being a rising star in the theatrical firmament. The oldest, Jimmie Coghill, known as the young Harry Lauder, is just twelve years old. They range from him down to charming little Frankie Bird, the youngest member of the company, who is five years old and incidentally is the most youthful eccentric acrobatic dancer in America today.

Included in the company that is travelling this way, are a school teacher, a professional nurse and a guardian. The children have to attend school each day and have their lessons just the same as all other boys and girls, with the added advantage of being able to study the geography of their own country by actually travelling through it. Surely there is something that is not known by the members of the company, as their food is all arranged for by the nurse, and with their daily exercises regulated they are indeed well cared for.

The Revue that is presented by this Kiddie Company is something you are bound to marvel at—each of the children are natural-born actors and appointed was Mrs. Anderson of Raymond, convenor; with Mrs. Mosley of Granum and Mrs. Marshall of Vulcan. The chief business of the day was the report of Mrs. Lynch-Staunton, district director, which was given at the beginning of the evening session. The report which was unanimously adopted, contained a descriptive review of the work accomplished by all the branches of the Women's Institute in District No. 4 during the past 12 months. There are 83 institutes, and 12 girls' clubs in the district at the present time. Great progress had been made, and a far better understanding of the work had been gained. The ideals of the W. I. had been lived up to, in kindness and charity towards others. The branch at Taber leads with a membership of 77, and the Little Bow district had more branches than any other. Four new Institutes had been added since the last convention, namely Garden Prairie, Lens, Kirkcaldy, and Heisek. Great assistance had been received from the Home Service Department by courses in millinery, basket work, and sewing, fifteen clinics (medical and baby) and extensive libraries. Great attention had been paid to child welfare, and progress was reported in the fight against infant and maternal mortality. The betterment of education in regard to school conditions and schools was carefully looked into, and although not very great progress had been accomplished along these lines, they were still striving for a satisfactory betterment. Great headway had been made in Home Economics, and Emigration, with Warner showing the way to other districts in the latter by assisting and locating over 200 settlers last year.

One of the chief items of the report was Canadianization, and the saluting and respect for the flag by the school children. "Teach them to love and respect the flag, and they will then learn what the flag stands for." In conclusion Mrs. Lynch-Staunton has been a pleasant one," continued the report of the Director. "Friendliness and kindness were the two outstanding features which account for the progress and better work that has been accomplished by the W.I. of this district, which spirit should always be in evidence, every member meeting the other with friendliness and kindness and never meeting one another half way only."

Mrs. Paulson, of Raymond replied in fitting manner to the addresses of welcome that had been given delegates attending the conference during the afternoon and evening sessions. President Ferguson, of the Macleod Board of Trade, gave an address on "Co-operative Savings," which was well received by the meeting, as was also an interesting discourse on "Agricultural Education" given by S. H. Gandier, of Clareholm Agricultural College. An address by Miss J. McMillen, director of the Women's Home Service Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, was greatly enjoyed, after which the convention adjourned until Thursday morning session. Thursday afternoon the Hon. George Hoadley, minister of Agriculture will address the convention, and other important business including the passing of resolutions, will be taken up. On Thursday evening the delegates will be entertained to a banquet after which they will be shown the film of the Macleod Jubilee, taken here in July last. During the afternoon and evening sessions a varied program of vocal and instrumental music was interspersed between speeches which were thoroughly appreciated by the meeting, those contributing to the program were Mrs. F. N. Morris, Mrs. Chas. Brewster, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. Ken Seymour, Miss A. Meers and the Senior and Junior Girls of the C.G.I.T.

DIRECTOR HAS WIDE KNOWLEDGE OF AFRICA—LOCALE OF STORY

Strange as are the adventures recorded on the screen of today, Donald Crisp, who directed "Ponjola," a First National picture showing Monday and Tuesday at the Empress Theatre, has experienced a few real thrills that will compare most favorably with anything ever caught by a camera.

Crisp has been managing a big American studio in England during the last two years and quite incidentally he knew the ins and outs of South Africa. When the British Intelligence Department desired to get some first-hand information regarding conditions in Russia, Crisp was assigned for extremely dangerous espionage work which carried him into the nest of Bolshevism.

Twice a week for more than five months he flew across the German border into Russia. And twice each week an airplane crossed in the darkness, picked him up and whirled him back to a spot where he could communicate with London.

"Moscow," says Crisp, "being the show place of Russia, does not indicate the depressing influences of the red terror. But Petrograd and points in the north are almost a nightmare. Dirt and disease everywhere; danger on every side and nothing strong enough to attempt to stem the tide of terror which the Bolsheviks have introduced."

Crisp won three medals in the South African war against the Boers, one being the coveted Distinguished Conduct Medal, which he earned at the battle of Tugela Heights.

His wide knowledge of South Africa was invaluable in the filming of Cynthia Stockley's story of that

CO-ORDINATE ALL AGENCIES TO GET SETTLERS FOR ALBERTA—GREENFIELD

Edmonton, March 10.—In placing before the legislature Monday his plans for carrying on immigration work in Western Canada, Premier Greenfield proposed the following:

The establishment of a national advisory board of outstanding men to work in co-operation with the British government under the Empire settlement scheme; the Canadian government, the provincial government and the Soldier Settlement Board.

The Empire settlement board to give financial assistance to their own people who desire to settle in Canada; the Canadian board to work in harmony with the other board and government and inspire confidence that the investments are sound, securities adequate, and repayments under the scheme reasonably protected; negotiations to be carried out with the provinces so that the latter would select definite areas suitable for farming contingent to existing public services; give necessary directions and supervision to the new settlers and generally protect the immigrant from exploitation until he is established; the Canadian land settlement board to have power to issue land bonds to any amount necessary to finance each project as undertaken and sell lands on a long term amortization plan to settlers, this including the possibility of financing improvements to a moderate extent on unimproved lands.

Co-ordination of Effort

Under this plan there would be established between imperial, federal and provincial governments in their efforts on immigration work, co-ordination on both sides of the Atlantic," said Premier Greenfield. "The security for the scheme would be in the land itself, which in carefully selected areas, with carefully selected settlers, who would be supervised until established, should be the best of security. A board operating as I have outlined would be the largest land purchasing agency in Canada, and, as such, in great measure would check any tendency to unduly increase land values."

"Such a scheme could, if necessary, be extended to settlers from other countries and to our own Canadian people who are desirous of returning to the farm."

The premier submitted his immigration plan in connection with a somewhat general resolution on immigration proposed on behalf of the government to the legislature, the motion being carried without a dissenting vote from any part of the house, although debated the entire afternoon.

SECTION FOREMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Carl Johnson, a section foreman of the C.P.R. at Pearce, inflicted injuries upon himself on Thursday night from which he shortly afterwards succumbed. He sent a letter to his father-in-law, J. Leewick, who also resides at Pearce, that he was going to "the great beyond." Immediately upon receipt of this Mr. Leewick telephoned the A.P.P. and Constable J. D. Jones to Johnson's home, where he was found just after Johnson had shot himself in the head with a 32 calibre revolver. Johnson was about 30 years of age and leaves a wife and two young children. His wife is at present in a maternity hospital.

"PONJOLA" VIVID PICTORIZATION OF SENSATIONAL BOOK

A refined girl, a victim of circumstances, decides that the world is not for women but for men only. Masquerading as a man she seeks to hide herself in Africa where she is thrown into a maelstrom of excitement, adventure and romance. This briefly is the theme of "Ponjola," a Sam E. Rok-First National picture, which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

"Ponjola" is a vivid picturization of Cynthia Stockley's famous masterpiece of South African gold field life, which proved a sensation in book form and promises to be no less of a sensation as a screen drama.

It tells the story of an English noblewoman who is disguised as a man, fights the curse of "Ponjola," the soul destroying drink of the gold-miners, fights for the man she loves and willingly offers to sacrifice herself for the man by standing trial for a murder which the man commits.

In the role of "Desmond," the girl, Anna Q. Nilsson, will be seen in a part which critics declare is the greatest role of her whole stage or screen career. James Kirkwood enacts the part of the man.

Other popular screen favorites in the picture are Tully Marshall, Ruth Clifford, Joseph Kilgour, Claire Du Brey, Claire McDowell and Bernard Randall.

PROBE OF BEER PRICE WILL BE MADE BY PUBLIC ACCOUNTS BODY

Edmonton, March 7.—Although no official indication has been given of the government's attitude on the question, it is reported that some step will be taken this session to hold an inquiry through the public accounts committee of the house into the price of beer charged in the province, along the lines suggested by Dr. J. S. Stewart, member for Lethbridge, during the course of his speech the other day.

Dr. Stewart says he will insist that an inquiry take place as he proposed, if at all possible, and a number of the other members of the legislature, including several on the government side, have expressed an opinion that such a probe should be advisable.

It is understood that the brewers of the province would not be averse to an inquiry by the house, the claim being advanced that their profits have declined to the diminishing point since the passing out of prohibition and the imposition of a heavy license and tax by the government.

SIMONS PRESIDENT OF GERMAN

Berlin, March 10.—Dr. Walter Simons was definitely designated as acting president of the German republic by the passage in the reichstag this afternoon on its third reading a bill so appointing him.

The Democratic party has come forward with the suggestion that in the interest of unity and harmony, Dr. Walter Simons, former foreign minister, be made the joint candidate of all the parties, excepting the right and left extremes in the coming presidential campaign. The suggestion comes after the Socialists, without consulting either of the other middle parties, had decided to run Otto Braun as their own candidate.

AHEAD WITH THE WHUSKEY

You remember the story of the Scotchman who was not feeling as well as usual and called on his family doctor, who looked him over and gave him some pills to be taken at bedtime. A bottle of whiskey was also prescribed for his stomach's sake—a small glass to be taken after each meal.

Four days later Sandy called on the doctor and said that he was feeling no better.

"Have you taken the medicine exactly as I instructed," the doctor inquired.

"Well, doctor," said Sandy, "I may be a wee bit ahead w' the pills, but I'm about six weeks ahead w' the Whuskey."

WIDTSOE RELIEF PLAN TO APPLY TO ONLY 160 ACRES OF EACH FARMER

Edmonton, Mar. 9.—Main recommendations for the development and carrying on of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation project, as outlined in the special report of Dr. John Widtsoe, irrigation expert of Salt Lake City, Utah, are:

Extension of the terms of repayment under the bond guarantee over a period of fifty years instead of thirty.

Maximum capital charges should be $55 an acre, payments on this not to begin until January, 1926, this meaning, in effect, a moratorium for this year.

Hold Charges to $3.00 Per Acre. Construction charges not to exceed $2.00 an acre for first ten years, under period of fifty-year bond repayments instead of thirty.

Water distribution charges should not exceed $1.00 per acre and should be paid for 1924 and all succeeding years by all, excepting possibly those in "dire need."

Holdings should be limited to 160 acres not turned over for sale would not come under the jurisdiction of the relief plan, which would only apply to lands under cultivation for production.

Premier Greenfield had the report of Dr. Widtsoe on his table today but declined to give any indication of its contents or to make any promises as to when it would be available for scrutiny by the newspaper men.

"I only received it at 10 o'clock this morning and haven't even seen inside the covers yet," he declared to the Herald. "The council will have to consider the report before anything is given out," he said. It was decidedly uncertain whether any statement as to the Widtsoe recommendations would be made public until the report was tabled in the legislature.

The outline of the suggestions of Dr. Widtsoe as indicated above, are authentic, however, though from an unofficial source.

THE CONSERVATION OF YOUTH

Governments may apply regulative control to our material resources, but in this free age, governments have no control over the dynamic energy of youth, which is the greatest source of our national wealth.

It is a pleasing occupation to talk of the vast resources of Canada, of our coal and other minerals, of the great stretches of virgin timber, of our fisheries, and of the fertile lands capable of supplying the wants of Europe.

Middle-aged men may initiate large projects and supply the capital for their needs, but it is the buoyant, hopeful, vigorous and unconquerable spirit of our young men that supplies the driving power in all big undertakings.

Restless and ambitious youths are seeking in other lands the opportunity they fail to find in Canada; we supply higher education demanded by big business of today, and resignedly watch them drift away from us forever.

The conservation of the dynamic energy of youth is the most vital question before Canada today, and the end can be accomplished by a courageous revision of our economic policy, under which our natural resources will be treated as if we really had a propert-ary interest in them and were not holding them in trust to be supplied to our neighbors at their convenience.

There is too much sectionalism in Canada at the present time, and with this there has arisen the pernicious system of parochial politics, and this parochialism hinders progress. The prairie farmer demands a lower tariff, while other sections of the country want protection. The result is a compromised tariff, which, in the face of the adverse tariff of the United States, is little short of comical.

It is time to change a policy which has failed for half a century. The dynamic energy of youth must be enticed to stay at home.

YOUTH AND ADVENTURE

One London archaeologist who advertised for three boys to accompany him to the wilds of British Honduras to investigate ancient Maya civilization, had 2300 answers to his advertisement, says a cable despatch.

Youth still responds to the thrill of adventure as keenly as ever before.
And one of the biggest problems of modern life is to harness that love of adventure to some useful purpose.

Three hundred years ago the world was still a place of wonder. Communities were isolated. If a young man made a trip of a hundred miles

he stepped into a strange land.

In the past 50 years science has done more to vanquish time and space than was done in the preceding 50,000 years. And with the conquest of time and space, with radio, telegraph and telephone linking up all parts of the world, and with devices like the motion picture depicting every corner of the earth in motion and color, travel has lost its flavor of high adventure.

The imaginative youth of today has lost the outlet that for thousands of years served to absorb the riotous animal spirits of his grandfathers.

It is the lack of a legitimate outlet for the romantic urge that has thrown the modern youth with such fever into the pursuit of jazz. Instead of chasing strange beasts, the young man of today chases pleasure.

The time has come when education must revive the romance of life. This age is getting prosy.

Instead of teaching the rules of economics, business, science and industry as cold, hard, colorless facts, the schools must begin to direct the child's mind to the romance of economics and industry.

There is just as much adventure to be had in this age as ever before. But we have forgotten how to find it.

GERMS AND THE NEXT WAR

Germs are discounted as the weapon of our next great war by Dr. William H. Park, chief bacteriologist of New York's Department of Health.

Annihilation of millions by disease germs might sound simple to the layman, but Dr. Park thinks execution of such a plan would be very difficult.

For one thing, he points out, healthy persons are continually resisting disease attacks and many adults are immune.

For another, there would be quite a problem to scatter them. If by explosive bombs, the heat of the explosion would make them sterile. If released from airplanes, much time would elapse before they reached the earth, and the air and sunlight very likely would make them inert.

Then, too, an enemy would have to prepare himself against whatever bacteria he planned to use. All his forces would have to be immunized.

It might even be that an entirely new disease would have to be discovered, such as the resistance we have built up against most of the known ills.

ONE THING AT A TIME

Lately the National Anti-Tobacco
Convention opened in Washington.
Coincident with this convention was the appearance of a bill in the North

AWAKENING

The robin on my lawn
He was the first to tell
How, in the frozen dawn,
This miracle befell,
Waking the meadows white
With hoar, the iron road
Agleam with splintered light
And ice where water flowed:

Till, when the low sun drank
Those milky mists that cloak
Hanger and belled bank,
The winter world awoke
To hear the feeble bleat
Of lambs on the downland farms:
A blackbird whistled sweet;
Old beeches moved their arms
Into a mellow haze
Aerial, newly-born:
And I, alone, agaze,
Stood waiting for the dawn
To break in blossoms white,
Or burst in a green flame.

Carolina Legislature to prohibit flir-ting under 30 days' jail penalty.

Before these moral ladies and gentlemen start their good work they should study carefully these items in the current news:

E. G. Wright, doorkeeper at the American Capitol, where the Volstead law was passed, has been arrested for bootlegging.

E. H. Kirwan, ex-"admiral" of the Baltimore anti-rum fleet, is sentenced to six months for rum smuggling.

The coastguard cutter Tampa seized the British schooner Marjorie Bachman as a rum-runner. According to testimony just offered at Boston, the crew of the Tampa drank
most of the liquor they captured.

A. E. Sartain, recently warden of Atlanta Penitentiary, has been given 18 months for taking bribes from bootlegger prisoners.

It took the Almighty six days to make the world. These good people should not be too discouraged, then, if they fail to remake it in one.

TREES AS PRAIRIE POPULATORS

Have you ever stopped to sum up all the good things trees will do for the prairie farmer?

In the first place they will make his place noticeable. Not a person passing or looking in its direction from even miles away but will see it.
Trees are the most conspicuous landmarks anywhere on the prairie; and planted farms always catch the eye.

And, as long as so many farms are unsheltered, not only will his farm be noticeable, but it will be notable among so many treeless neighbors.
It will be at the same time attractive;
for nothing is so attractive as beauty or so pleasing as contrast; and there are few things more attractive or more pleasing than the contrast afforded by a green clump of trees in the midst of the brown prairie.

All these things add value to the place, for be it remembered it is the purchaser who places the final value on anything; and can anyone doubt which place he would be willing to pay a premium for, the tree-clad place or the treeless, everything else being equal.

STAKING A STARRY CLAIM

Some stars show brittle colorings.
That flash and break and change
From crocus gold to iris
Through all the rainbow's range;

And some are diamonds lavished
Along the gossamer ways;
And some are sapphires torched
At the gateway of new days.

But one star is my star—
It has no state nor name;
I only know it crossed the dark
Within my window frame.

I know it bore a steady lamp
To light a murky hour;
I warmed me at its rose fire,
I climbed its shining tower.

Yes, one star is my star,
I shall not claim the rest;
But I must bless the star that left
A splendor in my breast.

—Eva M. Kinney.

The farmer's plantation is a wonderful creator of values.

Then close in we find the trees even more of an advantage than at a distance. The impression they give of comfort and substantiality and of that hominess so distinctive and so dear to every family, makes them an asset of which no one can estimate the value.

To the farmer himself and his family, the benefits are quite matterial, for they have shelter from the winds and shade from the sun in summer and the fierce blasts of winter pass them over.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

(Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb, State College of Washington.)

Cakes—Yesterday and Today

Here are some cake recipes, dating all the way from 1705, when William Salmon, "Professor of Physick", included them in his "Family Dictionary", and 1811, when Russell and Allen of Deansgate published "The Young Woman's Companion" in Manchester, England, down to the present housewife's special standbys, of Boston Cooking School fame, and Ida Bailey Allen, loved by readers of the best home magazines.

Curd Cakes (1705)

Here are some Curd Cakes that Joseph Addison, famous author of the Spectator Papers, was said to be fond of (and he's been dead over 200 years, you know, so it is an old recipe.)

Take a pound of curds, four yolks of eggs and two whites, a little flour to bind them together, sugar, grated nutmeg, mingle them together, and bake in cakes, icing them over with sugar dissolved in rosewater; or drop them into a frying pan of hot suet, as you like them best.

Shrewsbury Cakes

These are dainties which quite possibly helped make Falstaff the fat man Shakespeare pictured him. Certainly he was often in Shrewsbury, a town famous for this particular dainty.

Beat half a pound of butter to a fine cream, and put in the same weight of flour, one egg, 6 ounces of beaten and sifted loaf sugar, and half an ounce of caraway seeds. Mix them with a paste, roll them thin, and cut them round with a small glass, or little tin; prick them, lay them on sheets of tin, and bake them in a slow oven.

Vickie's Sponge Cake

This is my grandmother's recipe for sponge cake which she wrote into an old cookbook I now treasure. She gave it my mother's baby name to distinguish it from other sponge cakes.

Beat 3 eggs 2½ minutes, add 1½ cups powdered sugar, beat 5 minutes. Add ½ cup cold water, 2 cups sifted flour with 1 teaspoon baking powder well stirred in, and bake very slowly.

Ribbon Cake

This is one of L. M. Gurney's recipes of "Things Mother Used to Make". Cream together 2-3 cup of butter and 2 cups sugar, add 3 well beaten eggs and 1 cup milk. Mix a little salt with ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar and 3 cups flour. Stir all together. Put half into two oblong cake pans, and to other half add 1 tablespoon molasses, 1 large cup raisins stoned and chopped, ¼ lb. thin sliced citron, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and cloves, a little nutmeg, and 1 tablespoon flour. Bake in two more pans the same size as the first, and while warm put the four sheets together alternately with jelly between.

Mrs. Raymond's Gold Cake

Cream ½ cup butter and add 1 cup sugar gradually, beating constantly. Then add 5 well beaten egg yolks, and a whole egg well beaten also. Mix and sift dry ingredients including 1½ cups flour, 3½ teaspoons baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt, and add to egg mixture alternately with ½ cup milk. Turn into a buttered and floured cake tin and bake in a moderate oven 45 mins. Remove from pan and cover with the following Coconut Coffee Frosting.

Coconut Coffee Frosting

Put a cup of white sugar, ½ cup brown sugar and ½ cup coffee infusion into a saucepan, bring to a boil and let boil till syrup spins a thread from tip of spoon. Pour gradually, beating constantly, on stiff beaten whites of 2 eggs, and beat till cool. Set saucepan in a larger one of boiling water and cook till it starts to grain around edges of pan. Remove from water and beat with a spoon till it will hold its shape when piled up. Then add ½ cup desiccated coconut, ½ teaspoon vanilla and a few grains of salt. Pour over the cake and spread with back of a spoon, leaving a rough surface.

Everyday Fruit Cake

Here is an Everyday Fruit Cake from Ida Bailey Allen. Sift together 3 cups pastry flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, and rub in 2-3 cup shortening (dripping or butter substitute) with your fingers as you would for piecrust. Add a cup of raisins, ½ cup currants, ½ cup candied peel, and a cup of granulated sugar. Stir well and moisten with 2 eggs well beaten and 2-3 cup milk. It makes rather a stiff cake. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F., if you have an oven thermometer for an hour, or 15 mins. more.

Jelly Roll, Bowl Mix

A nice cake to make for a food sale or a "Woman's Exchange" sale is a jelly roll. Here is a recipe for four sheets, making 24 rolls, by Cleve Carney, famous Chicago chef. Cream together 3½ lbs. sugar, 1 qt. of egg yolks and 2 ozs. butter, add 1 qt. milk, 4 lbs. flour, 4 ozs. baking powder, and lemon extract to flavor. Mix well and spread into four baking tins lined with paper. Bake in a hot oven. While still warm, turn upside down, spread with jelly, roll and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Potato Cake

This is a recipe my little sister sent me in a letter once, and I've saved it, as it makes a small loaf and is delicious. 1-3 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup mashed potatoes, hot; ¼ cup milk; 2 eggs; 1 cup flour; 1 teaspoon baking powder; ½ cup ground or grated chocolate; ½ cup walnut meats; cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste, and a pinch of salt. Frost it.

MARCH

March is here with her wistful ways—
Sap in the maples swelling,
Smoke hanging low in the sugarbush,
In the swamp the ash-buds swelling.
Some days mild as honey and milk,
And some with the gray rain falling—
Star-white nights—down the meadow road,
A hoot owl calling and calling.

More Hospitals Have Surpluses

Alberta rural municipal hospitals have come through the past year in excellent financial condition, as shown by the reports of some of these institutions referred to from time to time in this bulletin. The latest reports come from the hospital at Athabasca which has a cash balance after all expenses of maintenance and operation and debt service payments have been met. The same is true also of the hospital at Cardston which will have a balance of about $3,000 in the bank.

Alberta's Finances

The public accounts of the province for 1924 were presented to the Legislature during the past week by Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer. The accounts are the first to be presented since the new system of accounting went into effect, and are based on the new system. The accounts are also accompanied by a consolidated balance sheet showing the exact financial standing of the province to the end of 1923. This balance sheet analyses the finances of the province from the beginning of 1905.

The actual deficit of the province on income account for 1924 was $620,841.42 or $38,160.67 less than the estimated deficit at the beginning of the year. The actual expenditures in 1924 were less than the estimated expenditures by $583,785.52, after allowing for expenditures on warrants. The actual revenue during the year fell short of the estimated revenue by $545,718.49.

AUCTION SALE

TO BE HELD AT THE FARM OF C. S. NOBLE, ONE MILE EAST OF NOBLEFORD, ALBERTA ON WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18th, 1925
AT 12 NOON SHARP

140 Horses 140. One Reg. Holstein Bull. Also Some Farm Equipment

In addition to the 90 horses advertised on the sale bills posted I am now instructed to offer another 50 head or 140 horses.

These horses were at right prices during the winter very carefully selected and bought for this large spring sale, and they can now be had reasonably.

They are the good quiet disposition kind, very different to many of those sold on this same farm last year, and all are ready for hard work. From this large selection you will be able to choose just the kind you need either single to mate what you have, or in well matched teams.

70 HORSES—were from 5 to 7 years old and weigh from 1350 to 1600 lbs. All of these have worked at least a season, and are well broken.

45 HORSES—were 4 to 6 years old and weigh from 1300 to 1500 lbs. These have all been carefully broken and handled during the winter, and will, while doing a good summer work develop in a way that many of them should double in value and be convertible into cash at any time. It is doubtful if money can be safer invested in any thing to-day than in these quiet young horses.

25 HORSES—were from 8 to 14 years old and weigh from 1300 to 1700 lbs. These are the strong dependable kind that will help to get the work done at the right time and at little cost, and the kind that can be used so well with more young horses.

Horses comparatively are the cheapest farm equipment we have, and a large per cent of our losses, and even many crop failures can be at least indirectly traced to work having been done out of season and all for the want of more cheap power.

Our land for fallow that has been early disked, plowed, and cultivated often produces 20 to 40% more wheat than land worked later and this can mean 100% more profit or even represent all the profit.

Mr. Noble realising this, and with most of his land for 1925 crop already seeded to the new M.22 Karkhoff winter wheat will start his fallow as soon as the frost is out and will use all 12 horse teams and four furrow John Deere plows.

HARNESS—At the Sale one of these complete outfits together with the Shandona hitch will be arranged to show a very simple but durable and suitable farm harness newly made to order by the Great West Saddlery of Calgary. This harness will be supplied at small cost to anyone purchasing horses.

is still proceeding. About 600 families have now been removed from the dry districts to other parts of the province. Some 75 families have gone into irrigated districts. The settlers removed are permitted their own choice of location, but every opportunity and encouragement has been given them to go to irrigated districts if they so desire. This has been particularly the case in connection with the

and the federal land settlement board, Lethbridge Northern irrigation district, at least to the extent to which land has been available in that district, and a number of families have been located there. Many of the settlers removed were located west and north of Lethbridge along the Crow's Nest, Macleod and Alder-ryde lines, while many others went farther north in the province.

you become disabled what about your Life Insurance?

"I HAVE always hesitated about increasing my life insurance because of the responsibility I would have to assume for the premiums," said a man who typifies a considerable class. "I always pictured myself in some situation, perhaps disabled through an accident, where I might be unable to pay the premiums."

But you may now insure against this possibility of future inability to pay your premiums. For a small additional charge the Mutual Life of Canada will issue your policy subject to a clause which provides that in case of total and permanent disability the Company will waive further premiums.

That is not all. Upon approval of proofs of disability, the Company will not only waive future premiums, but will pay $10 a month per $1,000 of assurance, so long as total disability continues.

And further, if the policyholder should die by accident the Company will pay double the amount of life insurance named in the policy. These new clauses are optional in all old or new Mutual policies if assured be over 15 or under 55 years of age.

Several people motored from Macleod on Tuesday evening last to Lethbridge to witness the performance of the Dumbells in "Oh, Yes."—On the return journey a wheel came off one of the cars and the unfortunate occupants were forced to walk to Monarch where they had a weary wait for the morning train to get them back home.

A happy crowd assembled in the parish hall Friday evening, it being the occasion of the return to Macleod of Mr. and Mrs. Tournon, who were married a short time ago. The bride Mrs. Tournon, had received showers and parties and this was her return to her many friends. She invited her girl friends, who had the privilege of inviting a boy friend each. Dancing, music and song occupied the time until the small hours.

Almost a disastrous fire on the farm of C. Brewster, four miles south-east of Macleod, occurred Saturday afternoon, March 7, when a cook car that was standing in the yard having been left there last fall took fire and burned. The wind at the time was blowing towards the buildings, but shifted around and thus saved the large barn and house from being destroyed. The cause of the fire is not known. No one had been near this cook car for weeks.

On Thursday evening next at the Empress Theatre the Granum Theatrical Company are putting on a three-act comedy-drama entitled "You Can't Keep a Good Man Down." The play is a case of entirely local talent and according to those who have seen it is well worth witnessing. It is under the management of Dan Boyle, who also plays the star male role. Granum has always shown the community spirit towards any venture Macleod has taken to Granum, and they have promised again that if at any time our Covered Rink Fund take an entertainment to their town they'll fill the house. Let's show Granum we can reciprocate by giving them a good turnout at their play at the Empress on the 19th inst.
